For students of business administration, participation in the bachelor's thesis seminar in Economic Geography is a mandatory requirement. Students from other disciplines who would like to write a bachelor thesis at the chair of Prof. Dr. Fuchs are strongly advised to (voluntarily) participate in the bachelor's thesis seminar in Economic Geography as well.

Both the preparation of a bachelor's thesis in the field of economic and social geography and the attendance of the bachelor's thesis seminar in Economic Geography require basic knowledge of Economic Geography. Basic knowledge of Economic Geography can be obtained by attending one of the focus modules in Economic Geography. It is therefore strongly advised not to attend the bachelor's seminar without prior or simultaneous attendance of at least one of the focus modules in Economic Geography.

All students who apply for a bachelor's thesis at the Department of Economic and Social Geography are strongly encouraged to reach out to Prof. Dr. Fuchs during her office hours well in advance. For further questions and discussions, please also contact the Student Advisory Center of the WiSo Faculty or the department's academic advisor Hans-Christian Busch.

Master's theses

Students who would like to write a master's thesis at the Department of Economic and Social Geography, please contact Prof. Dr. Fuchs during her regular office hours to clarify details concerning requirements and thesis advisory.
