1 Introduction

This document provides general information how to write an academic text (seminar paper or final thesis) at the Department of Economic and Social Geography at the University of Cologne. It serves as a point of information regarding layout and formal requirements for academic texts, yet, does by no means offer exhaustive instructions for academic writing. Rather the reader will receive information to make easier the begin of academic research and writing. Further detailed information regarding academic research and writing will be provided by the department's lecturers and in textbooks on academic writing (e.g., in German Esselborn-Krumbiegel, 2021).

2 Layout

General requirements for the layout of a seminar paper / final thesis in the subject of Economic Geography at the University of Cologne are listed in Tab. 1 below.

Tab. 1: Layout requirements for seminar papers and final theses

Font	Text: Times New Roman, 12 pt, margin justification, automatic hyphenation.
Line spacing	Text: 1.5 line spacing (18 pt) Empty lines only before and after headings, figures or tables.

3 Length

The length of the text depends on the specifications of the respective course or on the type of thesis:

- | | |
|------------------------|--|
| (1) Seminar paper: | Specified individually for each course |
| (2) Bachelor's thesis: | Exactly 40 pages,
incl. tables and figures, but without lists |
| (3) Master's thesis: | Exactly 60 pages,
incl. tables and figures, but without lists |

4 Cover sheet (Seminar paper)

Please indicate the following information on the cover sheet: university, faculty, course, lecturer, semester, title of the paper, name, submission date, number of semesters studied, matriculation number, field of study, and email address. Fig. 1 shows an example cover sheet of a seminar paper in the bachelor programme (business administration). Please note that the cover sheet does not include a page number and page numbering only begins after the cover sheet.

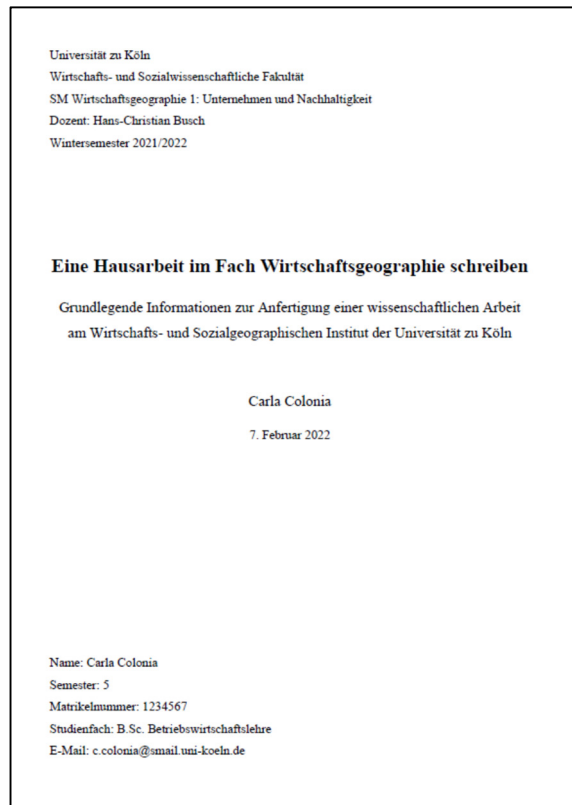

Fig. 1. Exemplary layout of a cover sheet

5 Lists

A table of contents and, if applicable, a list of figures and a list of tables (always stating the page numbers) and, if applicable, an alphabetically sorted list of abbreviations need to be placed in front of the main text body. Please note that the list of figures, the list of tables and the list of abbreviations (exclusively field-specific abbreviations and no standard abbreviations) are only helpful if there are several entries; these lists are otherwise optional. Please add a reference list of all cited literature after the main text body. The formatting of these lists can be found in this document (see also p. I, p. II, and p. 7).

6 Tables and figures

Tables and figures need to be integrated into the text. They need to be numbered in ascending order and need a caption with a brief title as well as the figure/table source. Only in exceptional cases (and after consultation with the lecturer), can tables and figures be attached as appendices (which does not add to the maximum length of the text).

7 Page numbering

Cover sheet without numbering. Please use Roman numerals (I, II, III, IV, ...) for page numbering of lists preceding the main text and Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3, 4, ...) for page numbering of the main text and for any lists which follow.

8 Table of contents (Seminar paper)

Please do not use more than three structural levels, e.g.: 2.1.3. Subsections are allowed if there is more than one subsection. For example, if there is a subsection 1.1, there needs to be at least a subsection 1.2 as well.

9 Citations

- Only quoting in the text itself (in brackets) is allowed.
- A direct quote must be indicated with quotation marks (“...”).
- Omissions must be marked with three dots [...], insertions in [square brackets].
- If a source refers to another source, you have to cite the original source (and include it in the reference list). Separate the source you are citing with a comma and insert ‘as cited in’: Example: Petersen 1995, p. 28, as cited in Schmitz 1997, p. 34.
- If an idea or paragraph you quote in your paper refers to several pages of the original source, you have to either write following when you refer to one page and the following page: (Müller 2017, 3 f.) or the following when you refer to two or more following pages: (Müller 2017, 3 ff.).
- Each quotation should include the name of the author, year of publication and page number(s).
- If the author is unknown (for example in information brochures, newspapers, internet sources) please use the name of the publishing organisation.
- Two authors are connected with a slash (/): (i.e., Müller/Meyer 2017, 5).
- If a quoted source was published by more than two persons (e.g. Müller, Meyer, Bauer & Schmidt), you only need to indicate the first author with an additional ‘et al.’ in the in-text reference: ‘(i.e., Müller et al. 2017, 3).
- If different authors with the same surname are cited, the author’s name must be followed by his/her initial: ‘name, initial. year, page number.’
- If your bibliography includes a number of articles from the same author or from an unknown source and the same year, these articles need to be distinguished using small Latin letters behind the year (beginning with “a” and alphabetically sorted by title): ‘Author 2018a, page number.’
- If you quote internet sources only websites may be cited starting with ‘www’. The above-mentioned quotation rules apply. If the URL consists of several pages, the page number (if available) or chapter must be stated.

10 Format of the reference list

The reference list needs to be arranged alphabetically. If more than one source by one author is listed, the source must be sorted chronologically according to the year of publication. In contrast to the abovementioned brief details in the text, the entries in the reference list must be given in detail in the following way, see Tab. 2 (page 4).

Tab. 2: General format of reference list entries

Monographs	Name, First name initials. (Year): Full title. Edition (if not the first). Place of Publication: Publisher.
Journal articles	Name, First name initials. (Year): Full title. In: Name of journal , Volume(Issue). Page reference(s).

If there are more than two editors or locations, only indicate the first editor with the addition et al. or the first place of publication with the addition et al.
